Beyond Rehab: Succeeding at Life

A conference on brain injury

About the Conference

The Brain Injury Association of Kansas and Greater Kansas City is pleased to present our Third Annual Beyond Rehab: Succeeding at Life- A Conference on Brain Injury –2024 for professionals working with those who have experienced brain injury.

Conference Global Objective

- ❖ To effectively implement best practices, including vision therapy techniques, in addressing the needs of underserved populations, aiming to enhance overall well-being and quality of life of individuals living with brain injury.
- ❖ Identify community resources to support the growth of independence through rehabilitation.
- ❖ Identify common challenges experienced by individuals with acquired and traumatic brain injury and their caregivers.
- ❖ Identify at least two physical therapy assessments and treatments for the vestibular patient.
- ❖ Identify best practice strategies for the treatment and rehabilitation of those with a brain injury.
- ❖ Identify the red flag symptoms of head injury/concussion.

Who Should Attend

Professionals who work with people who have brain injury or are interested in brain injuries. Sessions will be of interest to a wide variety of rehabilitation professionals including physical therapists, nurses, occupational therapists, speech language pathologists, social workers, cognitive rehabilitation therapists, case managers, life care planners, vocational rehabilitation specialists, neuropsychologists, counselors, mental health professionals, special education teachers, and other healthcare professionals who serve individuals with brain injuries and their families.

Target Audience for Continuing Education Accreditation

On Patrol she served the Westside for several years then during 2021, She spent 11 months as an honorary Detective in Domestic Violence and Sex Crimes Unit before joining the Homeless Outreach Team. She was selected to be on the Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) which equips officers to assist mentally ill individuals effectively during police interactions.

Officer Graham currently is active and involved with the Sedgwick County CIT Council. CIT Council is tasked with training local Law Enforcement Officers and Deputies around the state of Kansas to assist mentally ill individuals effectively during police interactions. Officer Graham is one of the four officers that work in partnership with homeless service providers to refer homeless individuals to resources and programs to help them out of homelessness and ultimately into permanent housing. To date, H.O.T. has helped over 1,500 homeless off the streets and into permanent or transitional housing while reducing the chronic homeless population by 68%.

The Wichita Police Department's Homeless Outreach Team has been recognized by the Department of Justice for decriminalizing homelessness and listed as a best practice on the COPS website. It has been featured in numerous articles, national news, magazines, and TV shows. It was recognized by the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness as being a best practice in law enforcement. Officer Graham assists the team in training other agencies and speaks publicly about what the team does and what the community can do to assist to help end homelessness.

Officer Brittney Graham receives a salary from the City of Wichita Police department. She reports no relevant non-financial relationships.

Officer Nate Schwiethale

Officer Nate Schwiethale has worked for the Wichita Police Department for 23 years. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice with an emphasis in community policing in 1999. In 2001 Officer Schwiethale joined the police department and was assigned to work patrol downtown where he has remained his entire career. He was one of the first officers in his department to be trained and selected to be on the Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) which equips officers to assist mentally ill individuals effectively during police interactions.

While patrolling downtown Wichita his entire career, Officer Schwiethale gained extensive knowledge working with the homeless. In 2006 he joined the community policing unit that proactively solves problems in collaboration with businesses and citizens. Locally, Officer Schwiethale is a member of multiple homeless organizations including the Advocates to End Chronic Homelessness, The Continuum of Care Coordination Team, and the Taskforce to End Chronic Homelessness.

In 2011 Officer Schwiethale received specialized training and certifications in police related Homeless Outreach Teams, and in 2013 he created and developed the Wichita Police Department's Homeless Outreach Team (H.O.T.). It is a police unit with a full-time team of four officers that work in partnership with homeless service providers to refer homeless individuals to resources and programs to help them out of homelessness and ultimately into permanent housing. To date, H.O.T. has helped over 1,500 homeless off the streets and into permanent or transitional housing while reducing the chronic homeless population by 68%.

The Wichita Police Department's Homeless Outreach Team has been recognized by the Department of Justice for decriminalizing homelessness and listed as a best practice on the COPS website. It has been featured in numerous articles, national news, magazines, and TV shows. It was recognized by the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness as being a best practice in law enforcement and Officer Schwiethale was recently added to the federal government's Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration advisory board to draft training materials for police agencies across the nation that want to adopt a H.O.T. program. The Police Department's H.O.T. program has been a model for other police agencies, such as Salt Lake City, Utah; Lubbock, Texas; and Springfield, Illinois.

Officer Schwiethale has received Officer of the Year Awards from the Wichita Police Department, the Crime Commission, and the National Alliance on Mental Illness. He was also nominated for "Hero of the Year" by the American Red Cross. Officer Schwiethale is currently a Homeless Outreach Team consultant for the International Association of Chiefs of Police and is a member of the National Advisory Board for the Department of Justice & COPS.
